CALL FOR PRESENTATIONS:

We are currently accepting technical presentation proposals for our 2024 event. Presentation slots will be 20mins max in length, while hands-on workshop presentations may run up to 1 hour max in length.

Please email general-manager@bcgwa.org to submit your technical presentation or hands-on workshop details and be sure to include the following within the body of your email:

- Technical Talk/Workshop Title
- Brief synopsis on presentation/workshop
- Presenter name/company name/contact details (phone and email)

2024 DRILLER'S & PUMP INSTALLER'S COURSES

We are pleased to once again be offering 1.5 day Driller's Courses (Water Well and Geotechnical/Environmental) and a 1.5 day Pump Installer's Course at our upcoming convention. These courses are meant to prepare attendees for their Skilled Trades BC certification exam.

Skilled Trades BC Certification Exams will be available on-site this year! Please contact BCGWA for further details.

Each course registrant will receive a courtesy 2-day convention Delegate pass.

THE RICHARD CHARLES REID MEMORIAL SCHOLARSHIP

Richard (Rick) Charles Reid dedicated his life to the environmental and geotechnical drilling industry. He mentored and supported every young driller that was lucky enough to work alongside him and loved to share his industry knowledge and skills to younger co-workers.

Rick co-founded Omega Drilling in 2008. Omega Drilling continues to honor the life and work of Richard Reid, keeping his legacy alive by sponsoring the Richard Charles Reid Memorial Scholarship. The scholarship was set up to send one geotechnical/environmental driller to take the driller training course at the annual BCGWA convention and covers course fees and expenses.

The scholarship is managed by the BCGWA.
